[XVIII*th* Year.] THURSDAY, October 28, 1762. [N°. 912.]

NEW-YORK, October 14.

Yesterday Afternoon, his Majesty's Ship the Gosport, JAMES JERVIS, Esq; Commander, arrived here from St. John's, in Newfoundland, which he left the 25th of September, with Dispatches from Colonel AMHERST to his Brother the General, at Head Quarters, in New-York; and affords the following very agreeable Intelligence of the retaking of that Place, by the Forces sent hence under the Colonel's Command; so that it is most likely our Enemies, e'er they have Occasion to rejoice at their Conquest will be obliged to sing their Te Deum backwards; whilst we, on our Part, have only to thank the Giver of all Victory for our Success. If it be proper to regret the Loss of any Thing in this Affair, we believe it should be for That of our Friends; joined with the Escape of the French Men of War: And to hope the latter will not go unnapped.

Captain JERVIS informs, That there was no Damage done to the Fishery by the French, nor were there any considerable Quantity of Fish carried off: That he left at St. John's, the Northumberland of 70, Shrewsbury of 74, the Bedford of 64, the Superbe of 74, and the Minerva Frigate; besides the King George Ship, belonging to Boston, of 24 Guns: That the French Garrison sailed for France the 17th of September: And that he spoke with the Enterprize Man of War, from this Port, bound to St. John's, all well.

Copy of a Letter from a Gentleman in the Army under Colonel AMHERST, at Newfoundland, to another in New-York, dated September 1762, as brought by the Gosport, viz.

SIR,

I HAD the Pleasure of writing to you from Halifax, the 27th of last Month, since which Time we have begun and finished our Operations against this Place, with all the Success we could have wished, and much sooner than we had Reason to expect.

The first of this Month we sailed from Halifax, arrived at Louisbourg the fifth, and sailed from thence the 7th: We made the Land off this Island the 10th, and next Morning, the 11th, joined Lord Colvill's Fleet.—The 12th in the Evening the Transports (attended by the Syren, a 20 Gun Ship) came to an Anchor in Torbay, about 7 or 8 Miles from this Place, not having a convenient Harbour nearer, which obliged Colonel AMHERST to come to a Resolution of landing there. The 13th, early in the Morning, we got into our Boats, and very soon after landed, without any considerable Opposition. About 50 of the Enemy, covered by Rocks and Trees, fired some Shots, but only wounded three Men, and before we got a-more they run off.—We immediately began our March towards this Place, through extreme bad Road, and came up with some of the Runaways, who fired at our advanced Guard two different Times, but did little Mischief, but gave us an Opportunity of catching three of them. We continued our March till we came to a Plain called the Grove, within a Mile of the Fort. We were scarcely halted, when a Body of the Enemy presented themselves to us, at about 3 or 400 Yards Distance; but upon a Movement of our Army, in order to take Possession of a rising Ground a little on our Right, they immediately disappeared, after firing one Shot at us. We then got on our March again into the Grove, extending our Left towards the Pass leading to Kitty-Witty, with a large Pond on our Right: By this Time Parties of the Enemy appeared on the other Side, posted on very strong Ground; they fired a good Deal at us, upon which the Colonel (though late in the Afternoon) made a Disposition for passing the Defile leading to Kitty-Witty. He ordered two Officers Parties to take Post on two different Heights opposite to the Enemy; who were to fire during the Time that two Companies of Light Infantry were to push through, which they did with great Spirit, and met with little Opposition; they were supported with a Company of Grenadiers. They then went on successfully, and drove the Enemy before them, chasing them from Height to Height, till they got entire Possession of Kitty-Witty, the only Place we could land our Stores, &c. to carry on our Works against St. John's. Several of the Enemy were killed, and nine taken Prisoners: The only Officer wounded on our Part was Capt. M'Kenzie, of Montgomery's, and two or three Men; not one killed, which was most surprizing, considering what they had to do.

The 14th was spent in clearing the Gut (which the Enemy had filled up) to allow our Boats and Shallops to come into the Landing-Place, and occupying proper Posts to secure it. The Enemy still had Possession of Signal-Hill, and Gibbet-Hill, two very high Precipices opposite to us, and leading to the Road to the Fort; which made it absolutely necessary for us to dispossess them of, before we could approach the Fort, as those Posts overlooked all ours, from which they kept firing at us with Wall Pieces, Musquetry, &c. but without doing us any Hurt. This Day the Colonel resolved to attack them early next Morning, which was happily and successfully executed at Day-Break of the 15th, by Capt. M'Donald's Company of Light Infantry, and one Company of Provincials, tho' the Number of the Enemy was above 300, commanded by Monsieur Belcombe, who was much wounded; several of them were killed and taken Prisoners, among the last was a Captain of Grenadiers, who was also wounded. On our Side we had Capt. M'Donald wounded (his Leg broke) Lieutenant Schuyler killed, a few Men killed, and about 16 or 17 wounded. We began immediately to open a Road, land our Artillery, &c. We found on the Hills we had taken, one Six-Pounder spiked, one Royal Mortar, and two Wall Pieces.

The 16th the Troops were ordered to move their Camp, and occupy a Ground about 200 Yards in the Rear of our Mortar Battery.——From our Landing, and through all our Movements and Manœuvres, the Colonel was indefatigable; and by his singular Attention to every Thing going on, and the Alertness of Capt. Ferguson, they got thirteen Mortars (of one Kind or other) ready by the 17th at Night; and they began to play from them about Eleven o'Clock, and did not cease diverting the Monsieurs in the Fort till about Ten o'Clock next Morning, when a Drum was heard, and an Officer marching towards one of our Out-Posts, where he was stopped till Col. Amherst was acquainted. He immediately sent me to know his Business; when I came up with him, he told me he wanted to see our Commandant, and gave me a Letter for the Colonel: I answered, "I should return very soon with an Answer, but that he must remain till then." I was a very short Time gone, when I returned to him with a Letter to Count D'Haussonville, his Commandant, in Answer to the one he had sent Col. Amherst.——I was desired likewise to tell him, that I was to wait his Return at that Post; that if he returned I was to receive no Letter from him, nor no Answer, but Oui, ou Non.——Which Orders, I assure you, I delivered very minutely. The Gentleman went off, and staid above an Hour; at last he came, and presented me a Letter, which I refused receiving, unless he would say upon his Honour, it was accepting of the Terms offered; he assured me Oui, I then carried it to the Colonel, on which he writ out the Articles of Capitulation, and then sent me into the Fort to D'Haussonville, who was remarkably civil and polite to me, but put me to the Trouble of one more Trip before he signed it. I returned very soon, when at last he signed them, and immediately our Troops took Possession of St. John's. I forgot to tell you, that on the Evening of the 15th Monsieur Tournay, with his Fleet, made their Escape in a Fog.——

I can assure you with the greatest Pleasure, that Operations were never carried on with greater Spirit and unwearied Diligence, than by our Colonel (AMHERST.) He has made a glorious Beginning; and I may venture to say, he will always shine in every Military Undertaking that he shall in the future be employed in.

We were Yesterday joined by three Ships of the Line, and a Frigate, from England, I am, with real Regard, dear Sir,

Your most obedient humble Servant.——

HAMBURGH, August 6.

THE Empress of Russia has acquainted Mr. Keith, the British Minister at the Court of Petersburgh, that she will adhere to, and maintain a strict Neutrality and Friendship with the Court of Great-Britain.

Berlin, Aug. 7. The Empress of Russia hath confirmed by a Declaration in Writing, the Assurances formerly mentioned, that she would religiously observe the Peace concluded with our Monarch. This Declaration was delivered the 11th of July, O. S. to Baron Goltz, our Minister at Petersburgh, and imports, "That "her Imperial Majesty was firmly and invariably resolved to "maintain a good Understanding, and live in Peace and Harmony with all Courts, and also with his Majesty the King of "Prussia; which Gen. Count Czernichew, on receiving Orders "to return with his Troops to Russia, declared to our Monarch, "in the Name of the Empress his august Sovereign. But "as Advice was unexpectedly received at Petersburgh, that the "General Officers being not well informed of the true State of the "Affair, had made some Dispositions in Prussia, which might "give room to think that her Imperial Majesty's pacific Sentiments might possibly change, the Imperial Ministry of Russia "have declared to the Prussian Minister, that it was the fixed "Resolution of her Majesty the Empress, to observe the Peace "religiously; and that with this view they had given Orders to "the General Officers to put all Things on the former Footing.

"In Consequence of this Declaration, the Russian Army, in "Pomerania, received Orders on the 5th Instant to return to "Russia. The Fortress of Colberg was to be delivered up to the "King's Troops the same Day. They have also begun in Prussia to put Things on a Footing, agreeable to the Treaty of "Peace".

Breslau, Aug. 6. The Trenches before Schweidnitz will be opened on Sunday or Monday next. There are 22 Battalions of Infantry destined to form the Siege; the Whole to be commanded by Lieut. General Tauenzin, who has under him Major General Thaddin; and M. de Fevre, as chief Engineer.

The Garrison of Schweidnitz consists of about 9000 Men; M. de Guasco, the eldest, is Commandant. He has under him M. Janini; and M. de Grimbovale, an Engineer.

The Prussian Infantry are partly encamped on the Hills behind Schweidnitz. The Cavalry form a Chain in the Plain of Kuntzendorff, to Reichenback and Frankenstein, near which last Place the Prince of Wurtemberg is encamped, as well to watch the Motions of the Enemy in the County of Glatz, as to cover the Artillery and military Stores, which are bringing from Neiss. His Prussian Majesty himself will command the Army that is to cover the Siege.

The successful Attack made upon Burchersdorff on the 21st of July, was executed entirely by Prussian Troops; the Russians were mere Spectators, and remained quiet in their Camp; and they separated that Evening from the Prussian Army, and marched the next Day towards the Oder.

Brunswick, August 10. Advices were received here Yesterday, that the Corps commanded by Prince Frederick of Brunswick had by four forced Marches, reached on the 8th the Upper Werra, having occupied Echwege, Wanfried, and Mulhausen, and had by this Position cut off the only Communication the Enemy had left open through Thuringia.

Hague, August 13. We expect to receive News from the Army every Hour. Our last Accounts from Gudensberg are of the 8th Instant in the Afternoon: Prince Ferdinand was then in March to attack the French Army, and had thrown eight Bridges over the Fulda. We do not hear that the Prince of Conde was advanced farther than Hohen-Solms.

Hague, August 13. The following are some Particulars relating to the late Revolution in Russia, taken from the Paris Gazette:

This Revolution, say they, was for some Time in Agitation, and Persons of every Rank embarked in the Design. The following are named among others, viz. The Princess Datschkow, at whose House the Conspirators met; (this young Lady is Sister to the FRAIL Woronzow, and Niece to the Chancellor, and was zealously attached to the Empress's Interest;) Marshal Rosamowsky, Hetman of the Ukrain; Count Panin, Governor of the Czarewitz; Prince Wolkowsky, and the three Brothers of the Name of Oltoff, who are Officers in different Corps. To provide against the Consequences of Treachery, or a Discovery, each of the Conspirators had an able Spy always near them, that in case any one should be seized, the others might have timely Notice. The Wisdom of this Precaution was justified by the Event. M. Passick, Lieut. in the Preobagensky Guards, by the imprudent Talk of one of his Soldiers, was taken into Custody on the 8th. The Spy acquitted himself of his Duty, and the Conspirators saw they had not a Moment to lose. The Princess Datschkow sent a Post Chaise to Petershoff for the Empress, who arrived at Petersburgh in Disguise, escorted by the Sieur Orloff, of the Guards, about 7 in the Morning.

The Soldiers, and the Populace, ripe for Revolution, immediately proclaimed the Empress Catherine II. Sovereign of all the Russias, and acknowledged her Son as Successor.

Part of that Day was spent in establishing the Authority of the new Sovereign in the Capital, and in getting together the Troops. Three Regiments, who had just set out for the Army, returned quickly, and joined the others. The passages leading to the Emperor's Residence, were carefully guarded; and about Six at Night, the Empress, dressed in the antient Uniform of the Guards, set out at the Head of 15,000 Men, to seize the Person of Peter III.

This Prince had embarked about 8 o'Clock in a Yacht for Cronstadt, before which he no sooner anchored, than a Centinel on the Shore called out to them to keep off, or he should be obliged to fire on them. The Emperor then returned to Oranjebaum, where there were 600 Holstein Troops, and some Militia.

Mean Time the Empress, accompanied by the Princess Datschkow, both in a military Dress, and followed by M. Rosamowski, Prince Wolkousky, and Gen. Villebois, advanced towards Oranjebaum. The Emperor thinking to lay the Storm, wrote her a Letter, but received no Answer. Gen. Ismaeloff, who was sent to arrest him, took from him his Ribband, and sent him to Petershoff, where he was shut up in the Apartment he occupied when Grand Duke; whence he was afterwards taken to be sent where he should never more be seen. It is said he was removed to Schluffelbourg situated on the Lake Ladoga, about 20 Leagues from Petersburgh.

The whole Affair was over by Ten o'Clock at Night. The Empress arrived with the Troops next Day at Noon at the Capital.

On the 12th and 13th she went to the Senate, and determined some Causes that had been longest depending.

Her Imperial Majesty has raised M. Orloff to the Rank of Lieutenant-General, and besides making him her Chamberlain, has conferred on him the Order of St. Alexander; and on the Princess Datschkow the Order of St. Catherine.

Petersburgh, July 16. Since the Revolution on the 9th, every Thing remains very quiet. It was on the 13th that the foreign Ministers, agreeable to the Invitation they had received, went to compliment the Empress on her Accession to the Throne.

Baron Goltz, the King of Prussia's Minister, is the only one that did not go to Court on this Occasion; tho' he was also invited, provided he did not come in his military Uniform. It is said he endeavoured to excuse himself, by alledging that he had no other; but, no doubt, he had other Reasons for staying away.

Yesterday a Note was sent to Mr. Keith, the English Minister, intimating that the Empress had thought proper to suspend the Congress appointed to be held at Berlin, for terminating the Differences relating to Holstein; and that she had ordered her Plenipotentiaries to leave that City.

Count Rosamowsky, Hetman of the Cossacks, M. Panin, the Grand Duke's Governor, and M. Korff, Lieut. General of the Police, are created Senators, and the Holstein Chamberlaine Teflow, is made Secretary of the Cabinet.

Vienna, July 31. By the Journal of our grand Army in Silesia, from the 15th to the 21st of July, we find that the Loss our Troops sustained the 21st at Leitmansdorff and Burchersdorff, in Killed, Wounded, Prisoners, and Missing, amounts to 1373 Men amongst them 30 Officers; and they were obliged to abandon 13 Pieces of Cannon in the Redoubts.

LONDON, August 19.

The King George Privateer, Captain Read, is arrived at Bristol, and has brought in with him the Tyger Frigate, Captain Fabre, from St. Domingo for Bourdeaux, and also the Beverley of Glasgow, from Virginia for Glasgow, with 388 Hogsheads of Tobacco, which he retook. The Tyger is very rich: The French Captain says his Cargo cost two Millions of Livres; it consists of 400 Hogsheads of white Sugar, upwards of 50 Tons of Indigo, a great Quantity of Coffee, Cotton, Hides, &c. and some Money. In his Outward-bound Passage, he says he engaged an English Frigate, which he has since heard was the Danae, and Homeward bound, about 24 Leagues from the Western Islands. On the 23d of July he engaged another Frigate, who had two Ships and a Snow under her Convoy, and in this Action had 30 Men killed and wounded and lost her Mizen-mast, and was obliged to put into the Western Islands to refit. This was probably the Deal-Castle from Senegal.

On the 5th Inst. the King George spoke with the Dreadnought of Bristol: She had in Company with her a Packet of 16 Guns, and 60 Men, bound from St. Sabastians to the Havannah, and a Spanish Vessel from Ferrol in Ballast, both which she had taken.

August 21. The Queen and Prince are in perfect Health. His Royal Highness is seen from Twelve to Three each Day.

The Valeur Frigate has taken two French Ships, bound from Cagliari to Bourdeaux, and carried them into Leghorn.

The Aimable François, a Letter of Marque, from St. Domingo to Bourdeaux, is taken by the Townshend Privateer, Capt. Moorcock, and was left the 15th Instant off Falmouth.

Yesterday Advice was received from Falmouth, that the Lord Anson, Captain Woolcombe, a Letter of Marque, bound to Quebec, had taken a St. Domingo Man, worth 16,000 l. and sent her in there.

There is Advice that Sir Charles Saunders's Squadron has taken two Spanish Vessels bound to the Havannah, with all their Papers on board.

The Tyger Frigate, from Cape François, taken by the King George Privateer, Capt. Read, of Bristol, is computed worth 100,000 l. and is the richest Ship taken coming from thence during this War.

A fourth Chest of Gold was found Yesterday among the Hermione's Treasure, and a large Crucifix set with Diamonds.

It is thought that there will be also more Money found, that was private Property. There was a Report of the Priest's Cloaths being quilted, and stuffed with Doubloons, which proved true; an Officer who first went on board discovered it by Accident, on which the Priest told him the Money belonged to the Church, and it would be Sacrilege to meddle with it; but was answered, that our Church was as poor as theirs; not that he believed either of the Churches would be a Farthing the better for it. Another Person on board had a large double breasted Coat, with solid Gold Buttons on it, covered with Cloth, to prevent paying the Indulto to the King of Spain; this was discovered by a Part of the Cloth being worn off one of the Buttons.

NEW-YORK, October 18.

Last Thursday Afternoon his Majesty's Packet-Boat the Harriot, Captain Robinson, arrived here from Falmouth, which she left on Friday the 27th of August. We have collected the following Particulars from private Letters, and verbal Intelligence, viz. "That there was great Talk of a Peace being speedily brought about between the Courts of London, Versailles, and Madrid, insomuch that it became almost dependant on a Courier's Return from France, with an Answer to our Proposals for a Peace, which it was thought would take Place before Winter.—That another Courier had been dispatched to Spain, to know whether they would agree to the Terms: And that whether they did or not, the Preliminaries between England and France, we are assured, from Letters of undoubted Authority, would be signed on the Return of the first above mentioned Messenger, who was hourly expected about the 20th.

"That the Revolution in Russia, on the Death of the Emperor Peter III. it was thought, would make great Alterations in the System of England, and the other Potentates:—That the Empress, from the strong Assurances that she would strictly observe a Neutrality with all the Powers at War, had for that Purpose ordered Home all her Troops from Germany, &c.——That the Success our Enemies made on Newfoundland, occasioned great Noise in England; ——but that on the ordering of the Armament to assist Lord Colville, in the retaking it, the Public were appeased at once.

"That Sir Charles Saunders was cruizing in the Streights of Gibraltar, with 20 Ships of the Line; and had not been fortunate enough to meet with either Monsieur or Don;——That he was indefatigable in his Cruize, and 'twas imagined would not continue long on it before he made a Push at some of the Enemies Ports.—That Lord Egremont was well satisfied with Capt. Bonnell's Behaviour, in his Engagement homeward bound, though he was obliged to throw over his Mail;—That his Lordship recommended him to his Majesty, and the Postmasters General, who were pleased to order him a Present of 100 l. to be paid him and the Ship's Company, for their gallant Defence of the Packet-Boat the Harriot, on the 11th of July last, against a large French Privateer of 16 Guns, and upwards of 100 Men:——And that Bonnell was afterwards promoted to the Command of an East-India Packet —

His Majesty's Ship Cygnet sails for England this Week, Weather permitting.
